PATRICK FEATURED ARTIST
IN RMC CHOIR CONCERT AT U

MISSOULA--

Julian Patrick, baritone with the Metropolitan Opera National Company for two seasons and currently affiliate artist at Rocky Mountain College, Billings, will be featured soloist in RMC's Concert Choir program to be held in the Music Recital Hall at the University of Montana, Missoula, on Saturday, March 16. The concert, sponsored by the U of M, will be at 8:15 p.m.

Patrick's professional career has included Broadway musicals, television appearances and concerts. Since 1964 he has concentrated his efforts in opera and recently completed two successful seasons with the Met's National Company. He has sung lead roles in Met productions, such as "Carmen" and "Madame Butterfly." A graduate of the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, Patrick has also been a member of the Boston, San Francisco, Goldovsky and Santa Fe opera companies.

The concert March 16 will include a variety of selections of both sacred and secular music. Patrick will sing selected operatic solos. He will also be featured in two of the choir's numbers.

The concert is open to the public. There is no admission charge.
